

PRESIDENT TRIES TO BRING NATION TOGETHER

(Ms. MCKINNEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, last night President Clinton reached out to the Republican leadership, asking them to join him in balancing the budget, and to leave the policy fights until the election.

However, the GOP is so obsessed with giving a tax cut to their wealthy contributors that they cannot agree with the President's proposal to balance the budget in 7 years using CBO numbers.

Mr. Speaker, this just proves that the Republican budget is just the vehicle by which they deliver their tax breaks to Wall Street. The President has kept his side of the bargain by introducing a budget which balances in 7 years using CBO numbers. Where is the Republican commitment to protecting Medicare, Medicaid, education, and the environment?

Unfortunately for the American people, it is just not there. Thank you, President Clinton, for trying to bring our Nation together.

MATCHING WORDS WITH ACTIONS?

(Mr. SAM JOHNSON of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SAM JOHNSON of Texas. Mr. Speaker, that speech last night was just like other speeches that this President has given. He is a great public speaker, but unfortunately, after the State of the Union is over, and he has had a chance to act, Willie's actions never match his words.

He talked about a secure future, yet he this very week is demanding that Congress raise the debt limit and increase the burden on our children. He talks about the importance of educating our children, yet he continually relies on bureaucrats in Washington to dictate how we educate our kids. Just like the last three State of the Union addresses, the delivery was great, but that is about it. He is a liberal who is ferociously fighting for big government, higher taxes and Washington control over every part of our lives. It is still the same old Bill Clinton. Our Republican ideal is for a better America for our kids: lower taxes, less government, and power back to the people. Our prayer is that the President holds our same views.

COMMON GROUND FOR ALL AMERICANS

(Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GENE GREEN of Texas. Mr. Speaker, you can tell how big Texas is. My colleague is from Dallas and Plano, and I am from Houston, and we do have a difference of opinion once in a while.

Mr. Speaker, the President last night reminded us that we are all Americans and Americans are the best when we work together. On the balanced budget, both parties have put forth plans that achieve a balanced budget by the year 2002. Right now we have enough cuts that we agree on to give the public the balanced budget they want. We can make meaningful reforms in health care so that our citizens can change jobs and not lose their insurance, and we can also protect Medicare and education funding without tax cuts to have that balanced budget.

The President was right on mark when he warned us not to play politics with the full faith and credit of the United States. The public wants us to address the issues of lost jobs, conditions in our schools and the kind of country we leave for our children, and as the President said, we have to do it together. It is time we find that common ground for all of us Americans.

FEMA'S RESPONSE TO PENNSYLVANIA'S NATURAL DISASTERS

(Mr. GEKAS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, just as Pennsylvania was emerging from a series of natural disasters that lasted over a period of 10 days, snow and then more snow and then rain, and then flood, the Governor of the Commonwealth, our former colleague, Tom Ridge, decried the slow response of FEMA, the Federal Emergency Management Agency. He did so because FEMA seemed to not be able to make the connection between flood and rain and snow and all the tragedies that occurred all at one time.

Then, of course, the Governor received a nasty rebuttal from the White House, and nothing was then accomplished in trying to address the problems of the disaster. Since that time the Governor convened a meeting in Harrisburg of the FEMA officials, Secretary Peña and others. We were able to resolve the methodology by which the Federal Emergency Management Agency will respond in the future. In the meantime, I aim to bring to the committee process an examination of the FEMA procedures.

POSSIBLE DEFAULT

(Mr. BROWN of Ohio asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, one day the House leadership says it will not force the United States into default. The next day the House leadership says it might force the United States into default. The majority leader says yes; the budget chairman says no.

Mr. Speaker, nothing good can come from holding America's credit rating hostage to ideological extremism. The cost of credit to American business is at risk by reckless statements about forcing the United States into default. Threatening to force the United States into default is reckless and irresponsible. It makes it impossible for businesses throughout the country to plan for their needs in the credit market.

We hear a lot of talk these days about our children's future on the floor of this House. Mr. Speaker, threatening to force the United States into default risks our children's future because it jeopardizes the gold-plated creditworthiness of the United States of America.

Mr. Speaker, please do not hold the Government hostage again to ideological extremism. And, Mr. Speaker, please do not force the Government into default because of this extremism.

AN END TO BIG GOVERNMENT

(Mr. HERGER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HERGER. Mr. Speaker, it is a great day to be a conservative Republican because last night the President came over to our side. He even declared an end to big government.

Last night the President gave a ringing endorsement of the Republican revolution. He wants tax relief for working Americans. He wants a balanced budget. He wants to save Medicare from bankruptcy. He spoke of the importance of the family. He even advocated a get-tough policy on illegal immigration.

Now that the President has come over, I now extend an invitation to my Democrat colleagues here in the House to join the cause of lower taxes and less government.

Just in case my colleagues cannot wait, I brought along a change of party form that I am sure will be quite useful.

Again, I welcome the President to the party of real balanced budgets, real welfare reform and lower taxes.

HOLDING THE NATION HOSTAGE

(Mrs. SCHROEDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Speaker, I thought the most interesting thing the President had to say last night was his point No. 7. It was a very serious thing. I certainly hear this as I travel around this country. I have never heard a President in the State of the Union do this.

He said, now that we have talked about all the agendas that we come together in this great American community and try to work on together, let me tell you what the American community thinks of this body. He virtually said, grow up.
